La casa della paura

By Gianfranco Baldanello

Only in flames, lies the truth.

Nietzsche

- Will you get a job?.

- Yes, I think so

Actually, I was thinking of trying outside the city

I like the country

I find it boring

You see, I want to work in theatre

Be a set designer... build things

Stuff like that... I'm good at it

- Are you?.

- Yes

I'm really good. No kidding

Well, it's the only thing I can do

I hope you make it

It's nice when your job

is your hobby too

Margaret...

what are you doing here?.

I'm sorry to disturb you,

Miss Sundberg...

...but I have to talk to you

Of course, Margaret.

Come in

Sit down

Make yourself at home

So what is the problem?.

- Miss Sundberg...

- Call me Alicia

Alicia...

I have to move from that house

-I feel that the world has become cleaner

- It must be a lovely feeling

It's just an illusion, my dear

In reality, the world...

...is just a cesspit

The Craigs only ever hung out with Americans here in Rome

Only Americans ever came here

Here we are

Sarah, I have good news for you

Their punishment shall match the evil in their souls. F.. S.. Lopez

The guilt of the soul is the joy of the law - Torquemada
OK, I'll be right there
